FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE –Members of the Builders Association of North Central Florida (BANCF) have planned, developed, and worked together to showcase the latest in home building techniques and neighborhood designs for the 2011 Parade of Homes. “We are proud to show off the local building industry to the community each year during the Parade. Our members are the key to the success of this popular event,” said David Hilman, BANCF President.

Parade visitors will not only find a huge variety of home design and décor, but also the newest in landscape design, energy efficient techniques and green building products.

Today’s market and near record low mortgage interest rates provide an unprecedented window of opportunity for prospective home buyers. There is also an outstanding selection of new homes available. “It important to note that housing is still one of the best investments around. There may never be another buyer’s market as good as today’s. Now is definitely the best time to buy,” continued Hilman.

The hours for the 2011 Parade of Homes™ are 1pm to 6pm both weekends and open 5pm to 7pm during the week. A Parade Book with floor plans, renderings, and maps to all locations will be available at each of the eight different neighborhoods. Tickets are $5.00 per person with children under 16 free.
